What we can do for you

Hardware and peripherals
ACS sells only the best quality computers and peripherals. We are able to do this by aligning ourselves with key product and equipment manufacturers as well as doing our homework to find out what is the best solution for your business.

Computer Repairs and Support
ACS provides expert, timely, affordable on-site computer service and repairs. We come to you. You can trust us to give an honest assessment of the problem and fix it.

New computers and upgrading
ACS custom designs and builds your new computer or helps you with the best solutions to upgrade your existing system. We also provide all peripherals such as printers, scanners and external USB hard drives.

Networking
We provide expert solutions to your network needs. We can help you out the next time your network goes down or just tweak your existing network to work more efficiently. Improve your existing network framework, or custom design and build a new network from the ground up.

Web design and hosting
We offer Web Design providing content and layout planning as well as deployment to your respective ISP or domain hosting service.

Data Backup and Recovery
We provide assistance with setting up your computers to avoid data loss and help recover lost data through hardware failure or accidental deletion.

Service and maintenance
We provide ongoing support contracts at a variety of levels. We totally look after your computer systems with regular checkups and preventive maintenance to keep them performing at their best.

Security and viruses
We make sure your computer is virus and spyware free and safe from future attacks.

What our clients say

" The team is very helpful, fast, and affordable. We always know that if we call ACS that any problem we have will be fixed quickly and efficiently.

ACS provides fast, efficient and high quality customer service which is often hard to find within this industry. We would highly recommend this company to others.

Fast, reliable and know what they are doing.

I have complete confidence in the service provided. It has made our operation more efficient and removed a lot of the worry involved with our Computers programming and Internet.

Our manufacturing business had a very old, slow computer system. We knew nothing about computers, but Damien quoted on a new system, explained, advised and gave us a new understanding of what our system could do for us, and made our office much more efficient.

We have been using ACS's services for the last 5 years. We have always found them to friendly, cost affective and trust worthy, often going out of their way to assist our needs where possible. We thank Damien and his team for his wonderful help over the years. "
